Chuck Reider, Music Director

Chuck has been a professional trombonist for over forty years, starting his career in San Francisco where he received a Bachelor's Degree in music from San Francisco State University. He moved to the Reno-Tahoe area in 1978 where he played his first casino gig at the Cal-Neva which featured Johnny Ray and a new upcoming comedian Jay Leno. As a showroom musician he performed with all the great entertainers from Frank Sinatra and Sammy Davis Jr. to Diana Ross and Willie Nelson. He performed with the Reno Philharmonic for over thirty years, retiring in 2018. He is a founding member of the Reno Jazz Orchestra and has been the Music Director since 2006. In 1995 Chuck received a Civil Engineering degree from UNR and worked for the Nevada Department of Transportation for 18 years, retiring as NDOT's Chief Safety Engineer in 2013. Music is his passion and he is committed to the RJO's Mission bringing our community world-class big band performances and motivating the next generation of jazz musicians through the RJO education program. Chuck has been married to his wife Candy for 30 years and they have two sons, Charlie and Matt.

Margret Wrights

Margret started singing gospel at five years old with brothers Jaeson and McArthur. Her mother, Beverly Butler, was instrumental in developing her talent. She belongs to a family gospel group The Heavenly Ambassadors later known as Four With God. Margret has been in local R & B bands and in August, 2018 started Margret's Funk Band in honor of her late brother Mac. MFB is not just a show, but an experience created in part by the amazing voice of this artist.

Patricia Scott Esters

Entertainer, teacher, director and producer, Pat Esters has many talents. As an entertainer, she is a favorite featured singer for such groups as Musicole, Route 66, The Mile High Jazz Band, and her own Pat Esters and the Hamilton Street Band. She has produced two jazz albums, and performed with Michael Bolton, Martha Reeves, Lyle Lovett, the Reno Phil, the Nevada Opera, and of course, the Reno Jazz Orchestra.

Lori Johnson

Lori grew up under church pews in Washington D.C. and from age five, all she remembers is music. Lori's first choir directing experience was at the age of 11, and from then until now she's been performing in and directing gospel choirs. Lori's first chance to sing in Reno was as a backup singer for a production of Rent. She was also an original member of the RJO's 2012 production of The Jazz Soul of Porgy and Bess, and has been working with the Pat Esters Gospel Choir since its inception.

Carolyn Dolan

Carolyn Dolan has been entertaining audiences for over twenty-five years. Her ability to cross over many genres of music has made her very versatile and in demand as a professional singer, harmonica player and performer. She has a gift of combining her passion of American roots music in her soulful vocal style, matched by the blues harmonica which is always by her side. She can dive into powerful R & B, deliver a smooth jazz standard or a gentle country ballad.
